Become a Chino Hills High newspaper Sponsor!

Journalism has some exciting news! We are looking for sponsors to help fund and support our award winning school newspaper and be a part of our Howler Sponsor Page!

The Howler, in return for sponsorship, is offering multiple advertising opportunities throughout the school year.

The Journalism class is an exciting and challenging elective that is taught and advised by Ms. Dorado at Chino Hills High School. The Howler student staff produces the school newspaper for the CHHS students, staff, parents, and the local community of Chino Hills. The CHHS online newspaper is located at the following link: chinohillshowler.org

The goal of the Journalism class is to support the student writers to express their ideas through writing about school and community news. The Journalism students learn the skills in all areas of Journalism that include interviewing skills, story writing, editing, photography, school and community outreach, advertising, and layout design for the print version of the newspaper.

Currently The Howler newspaper website attracts between 1,000 – 1,500 visitors per month. The plan for the 2018-19 school year is to build on those numbers and attract more students, parents, grandparents, alumni, and community members to our website every week.

The Howler does not receive school money to fund its newspaper operations and expenses, so we are seeking funding to cover the following: Online newspaper website yearly payment, funding for a print issue of the Howler newspaper, Adobe Software updates, Digital cameras and camera equipment, Journalism competition fees, School buses for Journalism competitions, and Journalism staff T-shirts

In demonstration of our gratitude Journalism will place your name, and business on our sponsor list on The Howler newspaper website

We hope you are able to contribute and thank you for your consideration!
